The ethno ambient duo Mehehe explore the roots of Polish village music and folk magic tradition. They raise the spirit of the tradition of rural rituals, magic, summer solstices, spells that survive in rhymes, melodies and folk songs using voice, traditional instruments and looper. Their music is trance and lyrical.

The group are: Helena Matuszewska an award winning musician, classically-educated violinist and multi-instrumentalist, composer, song writer and expert in the knee fiddles and the fingernail technique of playing; Basia Songin not only an award-winning musician and singer but also award winning theater director and performer, multi-instrumentalist, composer, member of well known band Sutari.

Mehehe was debuted in the spring of 2018 as the one of the winners the most important ethno music festival in Poland.

They also create music for audiobooks, theater and movies, their own kind of music storytelling and leading Wild Voice Workshops.

In 2020 Mehehe was invited to to participate in the Keychange project - a pioneering international initiative supporting women music.
